

Contents

---

Preface to English Edition 7

1. Process of writing 'State and Revolution' 12

Reading Bukharin's articles 12

Full-scale study of the theory of the state 14

Axis of Lenin's theoretical turn is the argument for blowing up state institutions 16

Commune-type state and Soviet-type state newly evaluated 20

In the midst of the revolution 23

2. Theoretical structure and the core of 'State and Revolution' 29

Where is the theoretical core of State and Revolution? 29

Inevitability of a violent revolution based on his theory of the state

— Chapter 1 30

Historical pursuit of Marx and Engels's theory — Chapters 2-4 33

Supplementary study of the 1870s - 1890s — Chapter 4 38

3. Does Lenin's conclusion accord with the theory of Marx and Engels on the state? 39

The turn in the theory on the state was a theoretical leap for Lenin himself 39

Two letters of Engels (1883 - 1884) 40

The Paris Commune - not a universal model 45

Engels's view of the democratic republic 48

How did Lenin interpret Engels's view on democratic republic? 51

With regard to the letter of Engels to Lafargue 53

4. Where does Lenin's view come from that regards the forcible revolution as inevitable? 57

5. Revolution by winning a majority in parliament — quest by Marx and Engels 61

Third exploration of the history of Marx and Engels's theories of revolution 61

1) Eve of revolution

How was Europe at the time of the 'Manifesto of the Communist Party'? 64

Development of revolution under "democratic constitution" pursued 66

2) Revolution summed up

French political history in revolutionary period and universal suffrage 69

The line of "revolution by winning a majority in the parliament" theorized in Britain 72

3) Since the Paris Commune

Marx denies argument that violent revolution is unavoidable 75

Marx's theory in 1878 on Revolutions of England and USA 77

4) To seek possibilities of democratic republic system

Remarks of Engels on democratic republic 83

Favorable conditions for parliamentary way to revolution spreads in democratic republic nations 86

Engels's criticism of "peaceful development" in Germany 88

Universal suffrage from "instrument of deception" to "instrument of emancipation": Marx 92

Is it wrong to expect universal suffrage to represent the "will of the majority of the people"? 94

Point at issue was criticism and charge of political system in Germany 95

5) After historical study

Lenin omits Marx and Engels's theory of parliamentary road toward revolution 98

Theoretical base was common to Lenin's theory of the "dictatorship of the proletariat" 102

Marx and Engels's theory of revolution turned into inflexible one 104

6. Lenin and parliamentarism 105

The history of the Russian parliament before the February revolution 105

Struggling squarely with the elections and Dumas 107

7. Peaceful development of revolution and Lenin 111

Peaceful development argument from April to July 111

Argument on the peaceful development of the revolution after the revolt of Kornilov 115

Lenin's eagerness for the peaceful development 119

Reference Notes 121

สำหรับการศึกษาศึกษาและการอ้างอิงเท่านั้น
For educational use and reference only